

Printable mini boxers/shorts templates and instructions

These instructions are a suggested guide as a way to get involved with the #weareallsmearready craftivist campaign in whatever way feels right for you.

1. Print these templates below (or make your own in any shape or size!) and create your own mini undies from fabric, paper or whatever you can find it's entirely up to you! Feel free to add any extra decorations you may have or find as it's great to be sustainable.
2. Add information to share what the boxers/shorts represent, either with the information label (or copy and paste) which can potentially save lives. Don't forget to write your first name at the bottom of the information label too!
3. Take a photo of your mini boxers and share on your social media with #weareallsmearready hashtag, reminding friends & family that the smear test is the best protection against cervical cancer.
4. We invite you to share any personal story you wish to add, as stories help build community

Share your decorated mini boxers/shorts on social media
with #weareallsmearready

Dont forget to write your first name at the bottom of the information label!

Show us your (mini) boxers on social media
with #weareallsmearready

When was your last smear test?

#We Are All Smear Ready is a craftivist campaign to raise awareness of cervical screenings, encourage conversations and potentially save lives.

With these mini boxers/shorts, we want to remind you that if you have a cervix, you need a smear test.

The NHS cervical screening programme saves an estimated 5000 lives every year.

NOW...

- make sure you book your appointment (if you haven't already)
- take a photo of these pants,
- then share on social media with #weareallsmearready

& let's keep reminding our friends & family members that cervical screening (smear tests) is the best protection against cervical cancer.

These pants have been crafted with love by...